Forgivable Study Credits for Black Communities

- There is an opportunity to access forgivable credits for higher education in Colombia in the second semester of 2018 through the ICETEX

The Departmental Government, through the Secretariat of Education, is informing the community that the call to access forgivable credits to pursue higher education in Colombia in the second half of 2018 for BLACK COMMUNITIES is currently open. The detailed information can be found at the following link: <http://www.icetex.gov.co/dnnpro5/esco/fondos/programasespeciales/comunidadesnegras.aspx>.

The Special Fund of Educational Credits of Black Communities is a mechanism by means of which the access, permanence and graduation of students of Black Communities to the inclusive Higher Education System is facilitated, in order to guarantee them the right to have equality of opportunities in relation to the rest of Colombian society. (The expression, Black Communities, includes the Afro-Colombian, Raizals and Palenqueras Populations).

The Secretariat of Education strongly recommends young people from San Andres and Providence to request their forgivable credit for higher education at an accredited high-quality university.

Higher education, in addition of being a privilege, is an opportunity to improve their quality of life and that of their family. Do not hesitate to approach the Departmental Secretariat of Education for more information.
